

We are read everywhere

In the past twelve months, more than 61,000 unique viewers worldwide have read Rhode Island Medical Journal articles or researched topics from its archives, rimedj.org.

ISTANBUL, TÜRKİYE

Michael Migliori, MD, FACS, RIMS Public Laws Chair, and Ophthalmologist-in-Chief at Rhode Island Hospital, refers to the RIMJ archive, at rimedj.org, while attending the World Society of Ophthalmic Plastic Reconstructive & Aesthetic Surgery conference in Istanbul. Below, he co-chaired a panel discussion on controversies in cosmetic lower blepharoplasty with Bijan Beigi, MD, with other international experts in aesthetic eyelid surgery.

WSOPRAS panelists [L-R]
 Drs. Petrina Tan (Singapore),
 Caroline Wilde (UK),
 Robert Fante (US),
 Michael Migliori (US),
 Dan Georgescu (Romania),
 Bijan Beigi (UK),
 Cameron Nabav (US),
 Tanuj Nakra (US).

Wherever you may be, or wherever your travels may take you, check the Journal on your mobile device, and send us a photo: mkorr@rimed.org.