

We are read everywhere

In the past twelve months, more than 61,000 unique viewers worldwide have read Rhode Island Medical Journal articles or researched topics from its archives, rimedj.org.

TOLEDO, SPAIN

Michael Migliori, MD, Ophthalmologist-in-Chief at RI Hospital, and RIMS Public Laws Committee Chair, stands with the statue of Miguel de Cervantes whose book, El Ingenioso Hidalgo don Quijote de la Mancha, has also been read everywhere.

The city of Toledo, (right) high above the Tajo River, was founded in the 2nd century BCE by the Romans and inhabited ever since.

View of Toledo, painted by Doménikos Theotokópoulos "El Greco" (c.1596–1600). El Greco was born in Crete in 1514, but moved to Toledo in 1577 and painted there the remainder of his life.

[WIKIMEDIA COMMONS]

Wherever you may be, or wherever your travels may take you, check the Journal on your mobile device, and send us a photo: mkorr@rimed.org.