GUIDELINES FOR VIDEOS IN CLINICAL MEDICINE

To be considered for publication, submissions should include:

Brief title
8 words or less

Content
400–600 words. Relevant clinical information, findings, clinical course, and response to treatment if initiated.

Video
Provide high-resolution MP4 video files which have not been published elsewhere. Landscape is preferred to vertical orientation. Any identifying information should be removed from the image.

Prior to submission, written permission to publish the video(s) must be provided by the patient if recognizable in the video(s).

Low-resolution videos will not be accepted. Note, the videos may be reduced for publication, and will be linked to and embedded on rimedj.org for playback.

Legends
The video’s content should be briefly described and explained in the legend.

Author Affiliations
Biographical information for each contributing author must accompany the manuscript submission. Affiliations for each contributing author should be listed in a separate sentence for each. In each sentence include:

• Author name
• Academic, professional degree(s)
• Academic or institutional affiliations
• City and state

Correspondence
Include the name, title, and current position of the corresponding author with mailing address, telephone, fax, and e-mail address.

If relevant, also include:

Acknowledgment
Include research or project support/funding by individuals, organizations or institutions in an acknowledgment.

Disclaimer
A disclaimer is used to separate the views of the authors from those of employers, funding agencies, organizations, or others.

Example: The views expressed herein are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the US Army or the Department of Defense.

Financial disclosure
All authors will need to complete a RIMJ financial disclosure form, available here. It can be filled out electronically or copied and scanned.

Copyright Information
Accepted manuscripts become the permanent property of the Rhode Island Medical Journal and may not be published elsewhere without permission from the Journal.

All authors must complete a copyright transfer form, which can be filled out either electronically or printed and scanned, and is available here.